

Nova Scotia

Proclamation

Continuing Care Month

WHEREAS Nova Scotia seniors make significant contributions to their communities and our province, and deserve to count on receiving high-quality care and support as they age; and,

WHEREAS continuing care is delivered by many dedicated and skilled health care professionals including continuing care assistants, nurses, allied health professionals, and physicians; along with support staff, administrators, family caregivers, and volunteers who work every day to ensure seniors get the care and support they need; and,

WHEREAS this October marks the 23rd annual Continuing Care Month in Nova Scotia and this is a time to recognize the vital role of the continuing care sector, the commitment of the people who work in it across Nova Scotia, and the many rewarding career opportunities it offers.

THEREFORE I, Tim Houston, Premier of Nova Scotia, do hereby proclaim October 2026 to be "Continuing Care Month" in the Province of Nova Scotia.

Tim Houston
